ROBBER SUSPECT IS CAPTURED BY JOE RYAN

A. J. Hagan Said to Have Looted Resort at El Verano, Captured by Sonoma Deputy at Sacramento.

A. J. Hagan, suspected of having entered the former Dutil cottage at El Verano, with a pal, and looting it of bedding, blankets, mattresses and furnishings, was caught by Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan at Sacramento. The alleged crime was committed Friday night of last week, and El Verano was thoroughly aroused over the occurrence, as a resident of that section had observed the marauders making away with the stolen goods at dusk via a window of the cottage. By the time Ryan arrived on the scene, the robbers had vanished, but they were trailed to a nearby resort, and when the owners were questioned they refused to admit the officer without a search warrant. By the time the necessary document was secured, the principals had made good their escape, after caching the stolen goods, and a search of the resort revealed nothing.

Ryan was satisfied that two former boarders at the place, who left hurriedly in an automobile that night, were implicated in the affair. He trailed them to Sacramento, and there placed Hagan, a former ship carpenter, under arrest. He was brought to the county jail Tuesday by the deputy sheriff, who is also hot on the trail of Hagan's confederate.

The stolen goods were recovered, together with shoes stolen from Mullen's store in a vacant house near the scene of the robbery, where the loot had been hidden.

MRS. J. A. POPPE CELEBRATES 91ST BIRTHDAY

Beloved Pioneer Mother Greets Many Old Friends on Her Anniversary.

Thursday, March the 21st, was the ninety-first birthday anniversary of Sonoma Valley's old and respected resident, Mrs. J. A. Poppe. The beloved pioneer mother was tendered a reception by relatives and old friends, and as usual was the recipient of many beautiful plants and flowers, of which she is fond. The wonderful old lady is in the best of health, and was bright and animated as any one present. When congratulated on having passed the four-score-and-ten milestone in life, she expressed the wish that she might round out the century mark, now that she is in the nineties. She talked of old times with those present, and greatly enjoyed the piano solos of old friends, who by special request played such old-time favorite selections as "Monastery Bells" and "Silvery Waves." Among those who contributed to the entertainment of the guest of honor were Mrs. R. A. Poppe, Mrs. Amelia Bates and Mrs. D. Volquardsen. The piano numbers of these former brilliant players showed them still masters of the keyboard, and they were presented with bouquets by the master of ceremonies, Col. R. A. Poppe.

During the afternoon a delicious repast was served at a table laden with dainty edibles, and prettily adorned with Cecil Bruner roses.

The grand old lady presided at the head of the table, and seated about her were her sons, Robert and Charles, her daughters, Mrs. K. Buchan and Mrs. J. B. Small, her granddaughters, Mrs. F. Bulotti, Miss Gladys Small, Miss Emily Poppe and Mrs. Arthur Fisk, her great-granddaughter, Phyllis Fisk, and her great-grandson, Robely Harbort.

Other guests included Mesdames R. A. Poppe, Volquardsen, A. Bates, E. C. Campbell, S. Lewis, George Breitenbach, H. Appleton, Miss Gillen, Mrs. W. L. Murphy, Judge Lester Small, Arthur Fisk, Miss Edna Cooper, Miss Kate McDonnell, Miss Helayne Volquardsen and George Breitenbach.

Mrs. Poppe was born in 1829, and settled in Sonoma Valley over sixty years ago. She has resided here continuously ever since, and for many years conducted a successful merchandise business near the present site of Sonoma's post office.

Mrs. Poppe is to be congratulated on having attained her ninety-first birthday, and the Index-Tribune unites with many old friends throughout the valley in wishing her continued health and happiness, and many happy returns of the day.

AMERICAN LEGION BALL A GREAT SUCCESS

Gay Maskers Dance to Joyous Music and Spectators Many at ex-Service Men's Brilliant Social Event.

The American Legion's mask ball last Saturday evening proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs ever given in Sonoma. Although the weather was anything but favorable, Union Hall was crowded to standing room by gay maskers and spectators.

The decorations were American flags and the community service flag.

Among the variety of costumes worn were: Hooligan, Indian Squaw, Charlie Chaplin, Fatima Girl, Yama Yamas, Doughnut Girls, Witch, "C. A. C." Club, ballet dancers, gypsies, cowboys, Spanish dancers, Hawaiian girls, tramp, and many other beautiful and original costumes.

Miss Dorothy Breitenbach was stunning as an Egyptian princess, and Mrs. Joseph Vella as a Chinese Queen, in rich brocades, and Mr. Vella as a Spanish Don, were among the handsomest costumed dancers.

Miss Bessie Love, the noted movie star, and her company attended in mask, Miss Love costumed as a "Blue Bell."

The first prize of $5 for the best dressed was won by Miss Winona Cahill of San Francisco, costumed as a "Lamp Shade." For the most original, $2.50 was won by James McElney as a "Gas-Masked Doughboy." For the best sustained character, Mrs. W. R. Hansen of Vineburg won $2.50 as an Indian Squaw.

The judges were three members of the Bessie Love Company and Mrs. E. C. Dodge of Sonoma. The orchestra acted as judge for the shimmey contest, which was held at 11:30. Miss Irene Gubini of San Francisco and Louis Capo of Napa carried off the prize.

The music, furnished by Heinie Gentry's Jazz Band quickly won the hearts of all dance and music lovers, as it was the best music Sonoma has heard for some time. The appreciation of the dancers was demonstrated by their repeated applause, to which the orchestra responded most generously with their encores.

Much credit is due to Henry Weber, Jr., chairman of the committee, who with his assistants, Ring and Dal Poggetto, left nothing undone in making the Legion ball the most successful of the season.

A neat sum was realized, which will enable our boys who went "over there" to enjoy themselves at a few social gatherings which they have about twice a month at the Woman's Club House, which they have rented for their regular meetings.

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN TO NATIVE DAUGHTER

Mrs. Olga Campbell, who is shortly to leave for Arizona, was given a farewell party by members of the Native Daughters Parlor last night. The affair was held at the spacious home of Mrs. A. W. Adler, and a fine time was enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Campbell was presented with a handsome cut glass dish, and wished much success in her new home.

MAKING OF MOVIES HERE KEENLY INTERESTS SONOMA

Bessie Love Company Arrived in Town and Made Pictures for Great $100,000 Film Drama.

Sonoma has been a-flutter all week over the novel experience of seeing moving picture films in the making. Last Saturday the Bessie Love company arrived from Hollywood, Southern California, and have put in the entire week making films for scenes in the great $100,000 production adapted from Charles Tenny Jackson's novel, "The Midlanders," a powerful story of conflict and love, which is to be the vehicle for the dainty star, Bessie Love.

The making of the films around our Plaza and in the square at the City Hall has furnished a genuine thrill to our townspeople. Spectators have only been able to glean fragments of the plot, but they have become deeply interested in the acting and touches of realism which the directors put into the production.

The jail scene has been particularly interesting, and in this and other scenes local celebrities, such as City Marshal Albertson and City Recorder Campbell, were induced to appear, and at other points in the story several well-known local society women consented to be in the picture.

School children have also participated, and Sonoma equines also figure.

Of course, the cynosure of all eyes has been dainty Bessie Love, the star of the production—a real flesh-and-blood heroine—who is as sweet and winsome as her name would indicate, and she straightway won the hearts of all Sonoma. Miss Love is a Texas girl, and in real life her name is Juanita Harding. While going to high school in Los Angeles, she was discovered by Griffith, the great producer, who gave her a part in Intolerance, and the stage name, Bessie Love. Her popularity on the screen was instantaneous, and she is now a high-salaried little star.

The Andrew J. Callaghan Company is expending over $100,000 on the Bessie Love picture, portions of which are being made in Sonoma.

The scenario is by Ida May Park, one of the only two lady producers in the United States, who is here personally directing the production with the famous De Grasse. Ida May Park has grown up with the stage, and was formerly a Shakespearian player. She has had the advantage of professional experience and with her natural enthusiasm and vivid imagination, she has found the film world an exceedingly rich field for her talent and ability. She is a woman of charming personality, and says that she finds kindness and a sympathetic attitude toward the players does far more to get good results than the old whip-cracking style of stage management. Although many poses are required and many duplicate films are made, the star and her aides are always eager to please, and though the work is strenuous for all, it is nevertheless fascinating.

Ida May Park clips all her own films and puts them together. She believes this to be one of the important duties in connection with her work, although many producers leave this part of it to a $20 per week employee.

The Midlanders will be renamed before it is billed for production throughout the country. The story is that of the squatters of the Mississippi River bottom country and their leader, Knudson, who defies the authorities and all those who would interfere with their settlement

Knudson's tragic life, and the primitive, decadent life of the little town of Rome, with its slow-going editor, finally awakened to life by love for Knudson's daughter, is the theme of the scenario. The love element in the play is a strong one. For the heroine, first in rags and tatters, and later when the idol of the stage, has three suitors—the newspaper man, the judge's son, and a young college-trained agriculturist vying for the honor of winning her heart.

In the novel, the judge's son wins her, but in the film play the agriculturist carries off the prize.

The heroine returns to Rome from her triumphs in a taxicab, the first the town has ever seen, and the constable of the village, on his bicycle, armed with a gun, attempting to stop the taxi traveling at a speed of forty miles an hour, while the boys and girls of the town take up the chase after the newfangled cab, is an enlivening and funny situation of the picture, and was enacted here Wednesday, to the amusement of many spectators.

Mr. De Grasse is well pleased with Sonoma, and while he believes that it is too far away to ever become a center for the production of pictures, he tainks many companies might find the scenery and locality of great value in filming plays, and says that publicity for the Valley of the Moon could achieve wonders.

The Callaghan Company has left much money in town during their sojourn here, the players being quartered at the El Dorado and Union Hotels, and the star and her mother at Boyes Springs. They have been generous with those whose services have been needed in the production, and spent money liberally with our business people.

From the time the Sonoma painter began to paint the letters "Job Printing" and the words "Undertaking Parlor" on the Heggie building, and gave the local scribes and undertaker a start that they were to have competition, until the report got out that a man in the Bessie Love Company had lost a leg while en route here from Los Angeles, interest in the movie picture people and their doings has almost caused a halt in the legitimate business of town. It now developes that the print shop was only in the play, that our former Agua Caliente resident, Ray Higgins, was the undertaker in the show, and that the individual who lost his leg wore a cork one, which was lost in transit. Sonoma has been having a right merry experience, and hopes more movie picture folks will come this way.

PICKINGS ARE GOOD FOR POUNDMASTERS HERE

Activities of Recent Appointees in Sonoma Valley and Vicinity in Impounding Stock Remunerative.

The pickings are good for the poundmasters in the vicinity of Sonoma, but decidedly poor are the pickings for the bovines and equines, which in days gone by browsed undisturbed along the public way.

How came it that such a perfectly good get-rich-quick job should have gone a-begging, everyone is now wondering, and yet for many, many moons there was not a poundman anywhere on the job in this vicinity. "There was no such animal." As a result, stock roved at its own sweet will, and the trusting dumb brutes, long accustomed to roam as their fancy prompted, now bitterly resent the infringement on their personal liberty. Even more so do the owners of the stock resent the sudden descent of authority which robs them of perfectly good pasture and in addition takes from their pockets in the name of the law real good money for impounded stock must be paid for, and poundmasters wax fat.

The poundmen, however, continue to see cattle and "saw wood," and as a result every day stock is being rounded up and run in by the eagle-eyed trio who guard the public highway and swoop down upon offenders without the least warning.

H. C. Kester, poundmaster and deputy sheriff of Loveall Valley, says he did give warning to the caretaker of the Millerick herds that he had better round up the stock or stand the consequences, but no heed was paid to the warning, and as a result there were $44 fees charged up to the well-known cattle men. Millericks were in Los Angeles, and knew nothing of the impounding of their stock.

Everyone in Loveall Valley is said to be building fences now, realizing that frontier days are over and that civilization has arrived with the coming of the poundman recently appointed to that section by Sheriff Harris of Napa county.

A good-sized feud is brewing between Poundmaster Finchum, the Sonoma Valley poundmaster, and J. L. Bernard, against whom Finchum recently assessed $37.50 fees, which he could not collect, as Bernard stopped payment on the check given Finchum when the poundman released his cattle.

Finchum, somewhat peeved at being deprived of his fees, recently came upon twenty-two head of Bernard's stock along the road, and took them in. This time the fees were $29.50, and Finchum took no chances on a check, but demanded cash.

Mr. Bernard paid the money to Judge Small, but as there were some points still in controversy and the District Attorney's opinion is sought in the matter, the money has as yet not accrued to Finchum.

On Thursday Poundman Paulson of Sonoma impounded six head of stock belonging to C. Sganzini, which accidentally got out of their pasture. Mr. Sganzini promptly paid as the city ordinance requires.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fisk and little daughter came up from Pacific Grove for the birthday party to Mrs. Fisk's grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Poppe. Fisk, who won the Croix de Guerre for service overseas with the railway men, is an engineer on the Southern Pacific Railroad.

MRS. WILL CUMMINGS INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Former Sonoma Resident, Now of Eureka, Has Narrow Escape When Struck by Machine.

Mrs. Will Cummings, wife of the prominent railroad official, and a sister of Theodore Kiser of this place, was severely injured by an automobile which ran into her near her home at Eureka, throwing her against a fence and leaving her stunned and bruised, as it sped away in the darkness. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings and daughter were on their way home from a Catholic benefit entertainment, and at a crossing near their residence an auto without lights and traveling at a high rate of speed rounded the corner just as Mrs. Cummings had stepped from the curb to the street. Before she could get out of the way or her folks could give her warning, the car hit her. Fortunately, her injuries are not of a serious nature, outside of a fracture of one of her limbs, one of the ankle bones having been broken.

She will be confined to her home, however, for many weeks, and is badly bruised as a result of her experience.

Mrs. Cummings was formerly Miss Josephine Kiser of this place, and has a host of friends here, where she often visits her mother.

SONOMA VALLEY AND THE COMING FAIR

It is none too soon to be giving some thought to Sonoma Valley's representation at the coming County Fair in August. We should be represented—that is a foregone conclusion—for in no better way can we show visitors to Sonoma County and those interested in our resources that Sonoma Valley is one of the fairest and most desirable sections for home-seekers. We should plan an exhibit which will interest visitors sufficiently to make a trip through our section of the county. Promotion work has been sadly neglected by our people, and yet despite the fact that we have hidden our light under a bushel, we are having right now a belated period of prosperity which is almost akin to a boom. More property has changed hands at good figures here in the past six months than in years previous. Now comes the opportunity through the County Fair to make further known our resources and opportunities.

Sonoma Valley should have an exhibition of all the products which can be collected together. We should show what our farms and our factories produce, prove that we have crowing facilities when it comes to poultry production, that we can handle the most fastidious with kid gloves turned out at our own glove factory, that our apples and pears are second to none in the market, that our canned tomatoes and beans compare with the finest and are the product of a $75000 cannery erected by Sonoma capital, that our schools are the best, our water both domestic and mineral the boast of the community, the sulphur baths unrivaled, the vineyards still full of possibilities, the hay and grain yield a proud one. This and much more enlightening information concerning Sonoma Valley in 1920 should be brought out at the County Fair both by acual display, description and illustration. Let us tell the world that Sonoma Valley is a good place to earn a living, a section whose real richness has scarcely been scratched. The Sonoma County Fair is just a few months away, let us plan to participate.

VOTE FOR THE STREET BONDS

Every voter in Sonoma City's two precincts should make it his or her business to be in town April 26th and cast a vote in favor of the street bonds. A two-thirds' vote is necessary to carry the project, and the bigger the vote favorable to the project the better, for it will be an index to the progressive spirit in Sonoma. Let us cut down the margin of silurianism to a minimum, and go on record before all the state as an enterprising, ambitious municipality, anxious to line up with the most up-to-date and to attain our share of the prosperity which comes into all localities where good streets and permanent roads open the way.

It is planned to make the bonds 5½ per cent, and they will run twenty-nine years, making about $2000 on the principal to be paid annually. When we consider the inferior and temporary makeshift streets which we have been getting at a cost of about $3000 a year, it is apparent that the modern method of getting the right sort of improvements is good business from the start. Add to this the increased volume of business which the modern pavements will bring into town, and there can be no question as to the advisability of voting yes on this project. Aside from this is civic pride, which we will all feel when we have come into possession of well-kept, substantial thoroughfares.

Let us set our house in order, so that when the state and county laterals are completed, Sonoma will be a strong link in the chain of fine highways between the county seat and the State Capitol.

EASTER MILLINERY AND EDUCATION

How education comes to the rescue of those who are struggling against the prices of milady's Easter togs and bonnets is seen in the offer of the local High School to teach the art of Easter bonnet making and fool Dame Fashion in its collusion with the High Cost of Living. The plan is part of one country-wide in its scope, which is putting manual training and domestic art within the reach all in and near our schools. For lack of training, many are helpless to cope with engulfing economic conditions, and as in the case of hats, they are forced to buy often far beyond their means in order to make the required good appearance at Easter or other holiday time. The big demand for hats at this season makes high prices, and it is only by cutting down the demand through making it possible for every woman to be her own milliner, that we can help matters. There are many women so situated that they cannot give the time to the art of hat-making, and this army on which old H. C. L. can depend for victims is reinforced by those who have no confidence in a chapeaux unless it comes from a fashionable shop, bears the imprint of a famous maker or is taken from a silk-draped, florist-embellished window in the down-town section where rents are filched from fair pockets intent on paying the price, however high. The High School help is no panacea for such as these, but to the sensible, thrifty woman who has time for the development of her talent in fashioning her headgear, it presents wondrous possibilities for herself and family. Not only can she master the art of angles—learn just the alluring tilt at which a feather should be anchored, just the right combination of color, just the proper length of a bow, just the fetching width of a brim, just that little something which we call style-plus, but she will be enabled to increase the purchasing power of her dollars so that the children, and even pa, can turn up their noses at the high cost of dressing, and look better than they ever did before. When mother makes the hats, it will seem far easier to buy the shoes and the Stetson she cannot make. Education is giving Dame Fashion a run for her money.

IT IS REASSURING to find in the mass of literature on various topics of the day, wholesome evidence of some who are striving to make this a better world for animals. There is not half the glory that can be achieved by prating of the help we would bestow upon our fellow-men or upon society in general, but to champion the cause of the dumb and helpless and arouse a higher sense of consideration iin their behalf, shows the stamp of the Divine and an absence of ulterior motive that cannot but commend it. The fight against vivisection to prevent the torture of animals for scientific purposes, is one which should enlist the aid and sympathy of everyone, the length and breadth of these United States Cruel and barbarous practices on the dumb brutes which share the universe with us is a blot on civilization, and should cease.

Is it two and three quarters
Or is just half enough for a gent?
If to liquor we apply it
Why not on other things try it?

Act just like Fijiias
Just how much religion is good for a man

SCHELLVILLE MAY LOSE FREIGHT TRANSFER BUSINESS

From what is apparently a well-founded report, Santa Rosa is soon to become additionally important as a railroad freight handling point.

It has been learned that it is the intention of the railroad people to abandon Schellville, in the Sonoma Valley as the point of transfer of N. W. Pacific freight traffic to the Southern Pacific, and hereafter the trains that now bring freight for southern and eastern transportation will operate over the Y connecting the Northwestern and Southern Pacific at Santa Rosa.

A few days ago the Press-Democrat mentioned that surveys had been completed for additional track facilities at the Y, which are being placed here to accommodate additional trains which the important transfer of traffic at this point will require.

For many years up to within a short time ago, the Northwestern Pacific used to haul all southern and eastern freight to Ignacio, thence to Schellville for connection with the Southern Pacific. Since the Southern Pacific has been operating a daily freight train from the Y to Suisun, about forty cars daily have been handled in this manner, with the Northwestern Pacific still handling a good many by way of Ignacio.

It is understood that an agreement has been reached between the railroads that all this traffic will be transferred around the Y and sent via Santa Rosa to its destination.—Press-Democrat.

SOLD PICTURESQUE FARM TO EUREKANS

Mrs. F. Cornwall has sold her pretty farm in the foothills near Rhine Farm to Messrs. Perroni and Guinnini of Eureka. The place consists of forty acres in vineyard, young prune orchard and other improvements. The buyers were formerly in the lumber and mill business up north.

Mrs. Cornwall will go to Berkeley to reside, her son Frank being a student at the University. She came to Sonoma Valley several years ago with her husband, the late Dr. Frank Cornwall, well known San Francisco specialist, who retired to the ranch he had owned here. About three years ago Dr. Cornwall passed away, and his widow then took full charge of the ranch, pruning her vineyard and harvesting her grape crop, which usually netted her about $1000 each season. She proved to be a competent viticulturist and business woman, and won many warm friends during her residence in Sonoma Valley.

SCHELLVILLE SURPRISE PARTY

A surprise party for Miss Evelyn Steiger was a social event of Monday of last week at the Harold Pauli home, Schellville. It was Evelyn's fourteenth birthday, and she was nicely complimented by neighbors and friends. Social pastimes and refreshments of the evening made it a jolly occasion, and the little guest of honor was much delighted over her party.

Mr. and Mrs. Pauli, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Watt and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keiser arranged the surprise.

A MESSAGE OF WARNING

READ! IMPORTANT!

Do you realize that the value of your insurable property, if acquired before 1916, has practically doubled? Do you know that the present cost of replacement, less a reasonable reduction for use, would be the basis of payment in the event of loss or damage? Have you increased your insurance proportionately? If not, you are liable to suffer a severe monetary loss. See me.

ARTHUR LEGALLET WILL LEAVES WIFE $500,000

The will of Arthur Legallet, for mer president of the French-American Bank of Savings, was filed for probate in the Superior Court yesterday. The principal part of the estate, valued at more than $500,000, he bequeathed to his wife, Mrs. Antoinette Deloche Legallet, stating that he knew she would make proper provision for their son. Four French societies of San Francisco were bequeathed $1000 each, and bequests were made to many relatives living in France.—Chronicle.

Mrs. Legallet is a sister of Mrs. A. Froment of this place. Her mother, Mrs. Deloche, remembered the Froment girls with a nice legacy by the terms of her will recently filed.

He is the owner of the former Cromwell place, and has kindled much interest in the Scout movement in and around his locality. About forty members enrolled.

REVENUE OFFICER PLACES SEAL ON CLOVERDALE WINERY

There's a big cellar of wine, vintage of 1919, sealed up by a revenue officer who came to Northern Sonoma on Thursday of last week. The wine is at the Hall winery, on the east side of Russian River from Cloverdale. It represents a good portion of George H. Hall's last year's production, and it is said there are more than 60,000 gallons in the cooperage.

Just what caused the Government's action is not quite clear. Mr. Hall was not at the winery at the time the revenue officer arrived. He came to Cloverdale later in the day from Alexander Valley. Mr. Hall stated that there was no intent to violate the law governing wine shipments. Prior to constitutional prohibition going into effect on January 16th last shipments were made from the winery, and the containers bore labels stating that the wines were intended for sacramental, medicinal or other than beverage uses. The disposal of the wine was, according to his understanding, made in conformity with the law. Before any of the product was removed, he consulted a leading San Francisco attorney, and the shipments were made strictly in accord with the advice given him. The outcome will be watched with considerable interest.—Cloverdale Reveille.

ST. FRANCIS ENTERTAINMENT WILL BE WELL ATTENDED

Judging by the demand for tickets for the post-Lenten entertainment for the benefit of the improvement fund of St. Francis Church, there will be a big attendance on Saturday night, April 10th. Union Hall will no doubt be filled to capacity, as excellent jazz music is promised dance lovers and an excellent bill of vaudeville will be offered by San Francisco talent, with sketches, negro acts and vocal numbers vying for popularity.

You will read it first in the Index-Tribune.

JACK LONDON ART EXHIBIT IN SAN FRANCISCO

The Jack London memorial art exhibition at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco this week has been well attended and the beautiful works of art donated by artists and connoisseurs of the bay cities to aid the building of the library at Glen Ellen have won high praise. Tonight they will be auctioned by Curtis, the well-known art auctioneer, and a large sum of money will undoubtedly be realized from the sale.

The plans for the Jack London library are very beautiful, and if the building is put up in strict accordance with the architect's ideas it will be built of stone, with tile roof and spacious auditorium, in addition to the library. A dining room, dressing rooms, and every convenience is included in the plans, and the Glen Ellen Women's Improvement Club, which originated the idea of the building as a memorial to the late author, will occupy it as their club house. It will be a handsome improvement for Glen Ellen.

MRS. ABELE WILL ENTERTAIN

Mrs. Robert Abele will entertain the Flying Needles on April 7th. The previous meeting of the club was held at the pretty new bungalow of Mrs. S. J. Studley at Buena Vista and was in the nature of a housewarming.

The newly elected officers of the Flying Needles are: Mrs. Rea Hunter, President; Mrs. Ralph Ring, Vice-President; Mrs. Studley, Secretary.

REVOKED LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

The petition of F. M. Berton to oust A. J. Perelli-Minetti as administrator of the estate of Flavien Berton, has been granted by Judge Denny. The court held that Minetti was named administrator without proper jurisdiction. Minetti's wife, as guardian of the Berton children, was entitled to letters of administration, but she declined, nominating her husband in her stead. This, according to the law, she had no right to do, consequently there remained nothing for the court to do but revoke the letters issued to Minetti.

CONTESTS IN ESTATES LOOM UP IN COURT

Settlement of C. Bosse Estate and That of Fred Boynton May Be Attended With Trouble.

Two contests in estate matters are imminent, according to developments at Santa Rosa, where the Bosse estate and that of Fred Boynton are in the process of probate.

Bosse's mother, Marie Bosse, who resides in Germany, and was willed a substantial legacy, is not satisfied to have the residue of the property go to German war charities, under the terms of the will. Bosse left half a million, and after remembering his mother and making bequests to friends, asked that the balance of his rich estate go to German war sufferers through some charitable source there. Bosse did not know whether or not his mother was still living, so he stated when he made his will, but made provision for her in the event that she should survive him. The alien enemy law has complicated the distribution of this estate.

A brother and two sisters of the late Fred Boynton, through their legal representatives at Santa Rosa will contest the will of decedent, cutting them off with $1 each and leaving the bulk of his estate to Mrs. Harriet Ames, a friend. Boynton's relatives reside in the East. The will offered for probate by Mrs. Ames as a holographic document is declared to be not entirely in the handwriting of deceased and was not properly witnessed. The hearing on the admittance of the will comes up before Judge Denny next Monday.

Her next official visit will be to Vallejo.

They couldn't be built now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—roadbed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete-and-asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy-one thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American Railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.
